

USC TOF Update for July 19, 2007

Kevin Wilson

This week in TOF:

- I finished cleaning up and restructuring my code to make room for Andrew's temperature correction.
- In the same vein, I'm writing a class to handle applying the temperature correction.
- I began looking at the crosstalk problem in detail; I just need to write the code.

Good things on the horizon:

- Finish my temperature correction class
- Write some fun code to put the temperature correction in the database
